

Questions

1. Can you think of a recent example of something you talked about doing, but did not actually do?
2. What's the contrast that Jesus described in Matthew 7:21?
3. What does Scripture say about the importance of a verbal profession of faith? Do people around you hear that you profess to be a follower of Jesus Christ?
4. What was wrong with the deeds that the people were doing in Matthew 7:22? What are some other examples of "religious" deeds that would be like these? What could make such deeds worthless in terms of being a disciple of Jesus?
5. Is there someone you can be praying for this week who seems to identify as a Christian, but who does not seem to believe the words of Jesus in a way that produces fruit?
6. What is one area where you are struggling to obey something Jesus has commanded you to do or something that He has forbidden?
7. What does it mean to call Jesus, "Lord"?

www.gbclorton.com/sermons

The King's Manifesto

The Sermon on the Mount

The One Who Does His Will

Matthew 7:21-29
Doug Sachtleben, Lead Pastor
November 21, 2021

In this passage, Jesus explains how obedience to the Lord's will is the mark that identifies His disciples.

1. Your actions DO speak louder than words.

3. Your actions have eternal consequences.

2. Your actions reveal what you believe.